Crack the Crowd's Dan Baird To Speak At The Thunderbird Independent Alumni Association's Annual Conference

THUNDERBIRD

INDEPENDENT ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Salt Lake City, UT—June 1, 2016—Dan Baird, CEO of Crack the Crowd, will be participating in the annual Thunderbird Independent Alumni Association (TIAA) conference, to be held in New York City on June 11th. Dan Baird, along with Jason Best, Co-Founder and Principal at Crowdfund Capital Advisors will present on “How to Navigate Raising Capital or Privately Invest Through Crowdfunding.”

This year's conference theme, “Calming the Chaos” has been designed to help alumni make smart decisions in chaotic business environments. Gabi Barragan, Crack the Crowd's Director of Marketing, and Sherwood Neiss, a Principal at Crowdfund Capital Advisors, and Partner at Crowd Capital Ventures (both Thunderbird alumni), will join the presenters on a panel on crowdfunding. The Honorable Kevin Rudd, President of the Asia Society Policy Institute and former Primer Minister of Australia, will give the keynote on “Creating Alternative Futures for US-China Relations.”

About Dan Baird:

Dan Baird is the CEO of Crack the Crowd, a crowdfunding strategy and marketing firm. Dan began his entrepreneurial career at 19 as a co-founder of LoveSac, and later led strategic initiatives as a part of ConAgra's Marketing Innovation group for some of the country's largest household names. In 2013, Dan joined Crowdfunder, a crowdfunding “software as a service” that launched over 60 crowdfunding platforms (including the first equity platform to hit 1 billion dollars in offerings). Dan received a BA from the University of Utah and an MBA from Thunderbird in Global Branding and Entrepreneurship.
